

Good and Evil World

In the eternal past, everything was good with the Triune God (The Father, Christ, and Holy Spirit). The Trinity lived in a universe of perfect peace, sinlessness, and harmony. God is good and God is love. He created sinless living beings with free-will, which meant that they can do things God's way or not. Otherwise, all creatures would only be obedient robots. Instead, God choose to have children—who by their own free will—can love, worship, serve, and glorify Him. It is only after God created creatures that evil began. The Devil and fallen angels invented sin, war, and death to exploit other angels. Then God created humans—Adam and Eve. The Devil deceived Eve by tempting her into the desire to know good and evil. Now humans not only know evil, but do evil (sin). Every good thing now seems to have its counterpart evil. Today this abnormality of sinning seems “normal” and natural to humanity.

Final and Eternal Separation between good and evil

Good and evil hung together like twins ever since Satan and evil spirits sinned against God. Some beings have never accepted God's way of sinless living. Regrettably all a human had to do was to ask for forgiveness of sin from Christ. Some never did. Finally, at the last judgment, angelic and human sinners will be separated from saints forever.
